"There's nothing really radically new in treatment aside from a couple of medications since then," said Dr. Mishka Terplan, who has spoken about this issue for years, including at the U.S. House of Representatives. "So, it's not a scientific question. It's really an implementation of will, a priority question."

IMPACT REPORT

JANUARY 2023 - DECEMBER 2023

We offer compassionate, evidence-based care that positively changes lives.

Opioid Use Disorder (OUD) during pregnancy has been linked to serious negative health outcomes for pregnant women and developing babies including preterm birth, stillbirth, maternal mortality, and Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome (NAS).

Hushabye Nursery is working to improve systems to help ensure that every newborn experiencing NAS, and their family experiencing OUD, receive the right care at the right price for better overall health outcomes.

Reduced Length of Stay

Average NICU stay is
